

“Go for I.T. gURL!” Program

Queensland University of Technology’s Faculty of Information Technology offers students at Craigslea High the exciting opportunity to participate in the “Go for I.T. gURL!” program. This is an initiative designed to encourage Year 10 female students to consider careers in the area of Information Technology.

Go for I.T. gURL! is a free 2-day hands-on workshop which allows students to explore a range of interesting activities within I.T. Activities include web development, multimedia, simple programming and industry speakers (including past QUT students).

The following is a sample program for the two day intensive workshop:
